

Terms of use of the UPC Digital Library

The journals, books and databases of the UPC Digital Library are subject to the terms set out in the licences of the provider or publisher of each product. These licences allow only private, non-profit uses for purposes of study, teaching or research by authorised users.

The users and their typologies

Access to the Digital Library is only allowed to members of the university community with active links. This access system is personal and non-transferable. It allows a single simultaneous session per user.

For purposes of full access to the digital library, UPC students are those who are enrolled in the following studies:

1. Bachelor's degree and UPC cycles
2. Interuniversity Bachelor's degree, coordinated by the UPC
3. Interuniversity Bachelor's degree not coordinated by the UPC, as long as the students are enrolled in the academic management system of the UPC
4. Official UPC Master
5. Interuniversity official master coordinated by the UPC
6. Interuniversity official master's degree not coordinated by the UPC, as long as the students are enrolled in the academic management system of the UPC
7. UPC Doctorates
8. Interuniversity doctorate, coordinated by UPC
9. Interuniversity doctorate not coordinated by the UPC, as long as the students are enrolled in the academic management system of the UPC
10. National / International Mobility

And, therefore, they meet the requirements to access the digital library.

For purposes of full access to the digital library, UPC teaching and research staff are the following:

1. Active UPC professor: full professor, associate professor, assistant professor, university lecturer, permanent collaborator, reader
2. PDI Active Researcher: senior, postdoctoral and pre-doctoral
3. Guest professor UPC
4. Emeritus professor UPC
5. Linked staff

And, therefore, they meet the requirements to access the digital library.

For purposes of full access to the digital library, UPC administrative staff are the following:

1. Active administrative staff
2. UPC research support personnel: research assistant and research technician

And, therefore, they meet the requirements to access the digital library.

People who are not members of the UPC community can consult the resources of the digital library in a timely manner and from the facilities of the UPC.
